Parents Comments:

“Overall I am happy with the school. There were a few issues that I had but they have been resolved for the moment. Overall happy with the school and my daughter’s progress.”

“This school was not my first choice but I have been blown away by the support they have shown my daughter who is dyslexic. Besides meeting every educational need, they have never failed to treat both of us with love, respect and patience whenever we raised any issue. It should be every parent’s first choice.”

“Communication could be better, haven’t had to deal with circumstances of bullying yet. Sometimes felt like any concerns raised have been brushed under the carpet. As my child is of mixed heritage I believe teaching black history in a positive light will help contribute to his learning and supporting me with my child’s learning.”

“I feel like the school supports my children and myself all the time through everything. Amazing school!”

“Text message system is great but sometimes gets different messages. Would like to hear more from the friends of Laycock.”

“I don’t have any concerns about the school. I think they are doing a good job in rather difficult circumstances. Constant educational reforms. There is still room for improvement but are aware of this and constantly seek to improve.”

“I find the child protection at this school amazing, offer real concern and support and provide friendly advice.”

“My only worry is concerning the number of redundancies made before the summer holidays. It seems that losing so many people will negatively impact our children. Are government cuts sacrificing our kids learning and developmental needs?”

“The school has been nothing but amazing. I like the way the school encourages Kindness and Unity and provides the children with great clubs and wider experiences.”
